

Hi, I would like to introduce myself, my name is Tionusa Catur Pamungkas, but you can call me Tio, I was born in Sumenep, East Java. Now, I live in Malang to continue my study in Politeknik Negeri Malang. My hobby is playing video games, it started when I was a kid because my parents gave me access to their computer. I was addicted to video games that I can play for several hours a day. At one point I was getting tired of it, I was getting bored to play the same game everyday, I have tried many but there were no video games that I liked. That's where I started thinking about to make a new video game. Since then I started looking for ways to create video games, but because at that time information about coding was still very limited on the internet, so I decided to continue my study at informatics and finally I was accepted here in Politeknik Negeri Malang. I hope by studying here I can get a lot of knowledge about programming so that I can create video game and other things.
